“ My favorite aunt — but to me, she was so much more than an aunt. She felt like a grandma, a safe place. Some of my favorite memories are the simplest ones. Picking pecans together, laying next to her and hearing her snore so loudly it would make me laugh. Her home was a place I always felt welcome. Whenever storms came, I was there with her because she didn't like being alone, and somehow even those kind of nights turned into memories I'll always cherish. I remember helping her make our bed before we went to sleep, and waking up early to go to Shipley donuts. We would stay up late watching TV until we couldn't keep our eyes open anymore. I remember putting rollers in her hair and going to church with her on Sundays. Even the little things, like how terrified she was of frogs are memories that make me smile now, because that silliness was part of what made her her. Her heart was so big, and the love she gave was like no other. She showed up for people and she made you feel important just by being around her. I will miss her more than words can say, but I'm so grateful for every moment, every laugh, and every memory we made together. I will carry her with me for the rest of my life, and I will never forget the love she gave me or the person she was. Rest In heaven aunt Lena <3
